LUTHER BUEHLER TAKEN BY DEATH

Proprietor of Gettysburg's Oldest Drug Store Dies in Atlantic City. Had been ill for Several Years. Other Deaths.

After an illness of several years Luther M. Buehler, until recently proprietor of the oldest drug store in Gettysburg, died at 1:45 this morning in Atlantic City. Acute uraemia is given as the cause of his death. He was aged 70 years, 6 months and 5 days.

Mr. Buehler had been in failing health for several years but continued to conduct the drug store which was founded by S. H. Buehler in 1818 and had been conducted under the Buehler name for almost a century. Early in the fall he decided to discontinue this business and, with his family, he moved to Atlantic City. He gradually became weaker after his removal to the seashore resort and the message announcing his death was received here this morning.

He was a member of one of Gettysburg's oldest and most prominent families. He was a son of George E. and Julian Buehler and was born in Gettysburg on August 20, 1843. After receiving his education in the public schools of town he learned the trade of tinner and engaged in that for about five years, later becoming associated with his uncle, Alexander D. Buehler in the drug business. For many years this store enjoyed a large patronage both as a drug store and as a source of supply for books at the college. Upon the death of A. D. Buehler in 1893 he became sole proprietor and continued in that capacity until he gave up the business in the fall.

Mr. Buehler was twice married. His first wife, whom he married in 1872, was Miss Ruth Metzger, of Hanover. She died in 1884. Three children were born to this marriage only one of whom, Ralph Buehler, of Chicago, now survives. In 1887 he married Miss Haide Briggs, of New York City. She survives with the following children, Lytton Briggs Buehler, of Lancaster; Miss Ruth Buehler, Miss Frieda Buehler, Alexander Buehler and Vera Buehler all living in Atlantic City. Of the family of five brothers and sisters C. Henry Buehler, of Stevens street, and A. Danner Buehler, of East Middle street, are now living.

The body will be cremated in Philadelphia on Saturday.

GEORGE D. ROSENSTEEL

George Daniel Rosensteel died at one o'clock this morning at his home at Round Top after an illness of less than a week with pleurisy. He was 57 years of age.

Mr. Rosensteel has resided at Round Top for the past twenty eight years. Prior to that time he was engaged in the butchering business in Gettysburg.

He leaves his wife whose maiden name was Miss Margaret Miller, and seven children, John, George, Thomas, Francis and Venetia Rosensteel, all living at Round Top; Mrs. Walter Plank, of Gettysburg and Mrs. C. C. Rider living along the Taneytown Road near Round Top. He also leaves two brothers and two sisters, John Rosensteel, Miss Jennie Rosensteel and Mrs. John Beck, all of Round Top, and Frank Rosensteel, of Gettysburg.

Funeral from St. Francis Xavier Church, Gettysburg, on Saturday morning. Interment in the Catholic Cemetery.

THOMAS W. FINNEFROCK

Thomas W. Finnefrock, a resident of Menallen township, and manager of Dr. Stover's fruit farm for the past fourteen years, died Tuesday morning at 3:15, aged 39 years.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Finnefrock, of Gardeners; and the following brothers and sisters, Charles Edward Finnefrock, of Williamstown; Mrs. Annie M. Tatnell, Aspers; James Finnefrock, R. R. Aspers; Mrs. Nelson Shank, Biglerville; Miss Edna Finnefrock, at home.

Services and interment at Cline's Church Saturday morning, meeting at the house at 9:30. Rev. Mr. Hoffman officiating.

He was a member of the Bendersville Odd Fellows and P. O. S. of A.

FORMER COLLEGE MAN SUICIDES

Alburtus G. Fuss, a Graduate from Gettysburg College, Shoots himself in the Head. Another Graduate Loses Damage Suit.

Alburtus G. Fuss, a graduate of Gettysburg College in 1898, shot and killed himself Tuesday noon at his home near Williamsport, Md. Fuss was to have been tried in Frederick next week on a charge of libeling Judges Keedy and Henderson, of Hagerstown in his paper "The Spirit of Justice". The charges against the judges were held generally to be without foundation and only the imaginings of an excited mind.

His mother was in the house and his sister, Miss Mabel Fuss, he went up stairs and soon a shot was heard ringing through the house. His sister ran up and found him lying on the floor with a bleeding wound in the back of his head. A physician was summoned but he died in a few minutes.

Fuss has been involved in litigation with neighbors recently over a disputed strip of ground. About five years ago he brought suit against eight members of the Masonic Lodge, of Williamsport, for $10,000 for slander, for being suspended for nonpayment of dues. The case, however, never came to trial. Later he published an alleged expose of Masonry in pamphlet form.

Mr. Fuss will be well remembered here. He was regarded as rather peculiar when he attended Gettysburg College. He leaves his mother, two brothers and a sister.

Loses Damage Suit

Rev. Paul H. Ketterman, son of Rev. W. H. Ketterman, of York, formerly pastor of the Lutheran congregation of the Stone church, was the plaintiff in a libel suit tried last week at Lilly. Rev. Mr. Ketterman brought suit for $200,000 against fifteen members of his congregation at Lilly, charging them with attacking his church meetings. The case was decided in favor of the defendants.

During Rev. Mr. Ketterman's residence at Doubts, Frederick County, several years ago, suits for damages were brought by him against several prominent citizens of the vicinity of Doubts.

He attended Gettysburg College for several years, graduating in the class of 1901.

COLDEST DAY OF THE WINTER

Temperature Drops Rapidly and Thermometers Get to Lowest Point for the Year. Roads Promise Good Sleighting.

The coldest temperature of the year was registered in every portion of Adams County this morning and thermometers showed anywhere from six to thirty below zero, according to their location and reliability.

Colonel E. B. Cope's official government thermometer registered eleven below zero as the minimum temperature for the night. It must be recalled that this is situated on comparatively high ground and that at many other portions of town this would indicate the temperature as several degrees lower. The very low places all reported the thermometers fourteen below or even lower than that.

Bairymen reported as low as twenty four below zero and from various towns in the county came similar reports of the lowest temperatures for the year.

Following the heavy snowfall of Monday the cold weather promises to make ideal sleighing conditions in every part of the county. The last snow drifted but little in most sections and the roads had a firm surface to receive the eight or nine inches which fell. Some drifts are reported and a few bare spots but, as a general rule, the roads have been kept in good shape and with temperatures anywhere above the freezing point sleighing should be fine for many days to come.

Rural carriers report some difficulty in making their rounds but drifts, where they did exist, have been opened in most cases. There is no little suffering from the cold and people compelled to drive these days have uncomfortable experiences.

UNITED BRETHREN CHURCH REVIVAL

Rev. J. Charles Gardner Preached Sermon Tuesday Evening to an Interested Audience which Entered heartily into the Service.

A good congregation was present at the United Brethren Church Tuesday night with splendid interest. The sermon was preached by the pastor from the text "We made our prayer unto our God, and set a watch against them day and night." The subject of the discourse was "My Place in the Revival".

"The Devil and his servants have ever been enemies to reformation. Church and individuals must fight the foe and enemies to righteousness. All the world was against Athanasius in his generation, and Martin Luther in his. Nehemiah and his Jews were not more busy in building than their enemies were active in deriding, conspiring, practicing to hinder and overthrow them."

"The word 'revival' has a definite meaning and doubtless a proper place in Church affairs. By it we understand that the church revives or lives again, implying that it has been at a low ebb, partially dead or paralyzed. The church should be in constant life. But what is my duty and where is my place in the revival? I must be a praying Christian. Nehemiah and his people went to God. A man who does not pray breaks the circuit between earth and heaven and fails in his effort. A man must be a burden bearer, Judah complained of the rubbish in the way, and the man who does not intend to work need not waste much of his time at prayer."

"In every revival there are some whose strength has decayed because of companionship with sin. The spirit of Christ cannot work in harmony with such a combination. The individual must have a definite aim, and plan. Pastor and layman must know the community, and by vigilant work, and watchfulness the adversary is disappointed. Do what Satan doesn't want you to do. We cannot afford to be so blind as to let our spirituality decline. One must be fearless, as half of the work of revival fails because Christians are afraid to do their duty."

"When God calls us to speak He prepares the other for the message. The only fear should be of not doing our duty. Fear God and keep his commandments, fight for the home and your brethren. Protect the souls of your nearest relatives at least. Cain asked with guilty conscience 'Am I my brother's keeper?' Every Christian must go forth to work after victory. After revival more work. After Nehemiah's enemies had been vanquished they returned everyone unto the work. What about Pentecost?—Do I know my place?"

Word from the evangelist this morning states that he will be here this evening after having been snow bound for ten hours on Tuesday.

GIBBONEY'S PLAN, BUY OUT SALOONS

For Prohibition With Compensation to Dealers.

SENDS OUT PAMPHLETS

Philadelphia Law and Order Society President Favors Amendment to Constitution.

Philadelphia, Feb. 25.—D. Clarence Gibboney, president of the Law and Order society, and for many years active in registering protests against retail liquor dealers accused of violations of the provisions of the Brooks high license law, declared for "fair play" to the liquor interests.

"A Same Square Deal Abolition of the Liquor Traffic" is the title of a pamphlet sent broadcast through the state by Mr. Gibboney, in which he alleges that the state is a "partner" of the liquor dealers and cannot in equity on short notice, without compensating sellers of intoxicants, repudiate the partnership.

Gibboney concedes that it would probably cost the state $300,000,000 to "compensate" manufacturers and dealers in intoxicants to "quit business," but insists that it is the only fair proposition.

After declaring that the state had profited to the extent of millions of dollars annually by revenue from the liquor business, Gibboney, in his pamphlet, sent to clergymen and organizations which have uncompromisingly fought the liquor traffic, declares:

"The only effective plan, it seems to me, by which we can permanently get rid of the liquor business is for Pennsylvania to pass a prohibition amendment to the constitution—appropriate a sum of money sufficiently large to meet the requirements—provide for the appointment of some sort of commission with authority to appraise all liquor establishments at their actual value, and in some such manner compensate the licensed dealers for some part of the actual cash less following the dissolution of the partnership, thereby enabling them to engage in some other business."

Gibboney disclaimed any ulterior purpose, saying that his only purpose was to "convict those of hypocrisy in supporting the proposition that the state dodge its just responsibility for the whole liquor business." In this connection he said:

"Shrewd citizens of Pennsylvania made a monopoly of the liquor business for big profits. It is unpopular now, and we want to run away from our managing partners. Is this fair? This being true, it seems unfair, unjust and un-Christian to try to expropriate ourselves by dumping all the blame for the evils of the traffic, that we legalized and have profited by, on our partners. If we sincerely desire to abolish this business we must courageously assume our share of the responsibility and our share of the losses, settle with our partners and all parties engaged in some better business, even though not quite as profitable."

Gibboney, in his printed "argument" or "brief," rejects the plea that the liquor dealers carry on their business with the knowledge that they run the risk of encountering prohibition at any time.

"It will not satisfy fair-minded men," he says, "for the opponents of the liquor business to say: 'Oh! the liquor dealers cannot blame anybody but themselves—they took a chance—and if they lose their large cash investments in the wicked liquor business, it is their own fault.' It is unthinkable that a business man would invest $10,000, $15,000 or $1,000,000 in a business if he notified it was a short-lived scheme or experiment."

"WALLINGFORD" GETS 3 YEARS

Worked Reading and Altoona With Promises of Factories.

Hollidaysburg, Pa., Feb. 25.—Henry Hesse and Thomas Stanton, charged with "kittens" and forgery, were each sentenced by the Blair county court to three years' imprisonment.

Hesse played the "Wallingford" game on the Altoona Chamber of Commerce officials by pretending that he was going to establish a large industrial plant in that city.

On the strength of this representation his checks were freely cashed by the officials. He is said to have played a similar game on the Chamber of Commerce at Reading before going to Altoona.

Stanton was found guilty of shady financing at Erie and Butler to which cities he will be taken for trial after his present sentence expires.

ATTACKED IN CHURCH AS SHE GOES TO PRAY

Assailant of 17-Year-Old Girl is Frightened Off.

Philadelphia, Feb. 25.—When Helen Morris, seventeen years old, of 1506 North Sixth street, went into St. Michael's Catholic church, at Second and Jefferson streets, to pray for work, a man, who was standing on the top step leading to the vestibule, attacked the girl.

When her screams attracted the sexton, the man struck her across the face and threw her down a flight of fourteen steps.

John McKeever, the sexton, found the girl almost unconscious, with her lips bleeding, with the imprints of fingers on her face and her clothing torn. Her assailant took alarm at McKeever's appearance and escaped.

When the girl regained her composure she went to the police station at Front and Master streets and told the police. She described the man as tall and dark and dressed as a working man.

He had seen her coming, apparently, and had waited for her at the top of the flight of steps leading into the church. When the girl tried the door leading to the main aisle of the church she found it locked.

"You'd better try the side door," the man volunteered. The girl thanked him, and as she entered the north vestibule he sprang upon her and tried to choke back her screams by pressing his hand across her face.

Father Hugh Dugan, rector of the church, notified the police of every station, and a search is being made for the man.

London, Feb. 25.—The British government has invoked the good offices of the United States government to urge that there shall be no interference by General Villa with its investigation into the death of William S. Benton.

The investigation is to be made by Charles Perceval, British consul at Galveston, who has been ordered to Juarez. Perceval has been instructed to supply the most complete reports obtainable.

Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, told the house of commons of the latest developments in the Mexican situation. He said Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, British ambassador to the United States, had been instructed to inform the Washington government that Great Britain considered it essential for a British consul to visit the spot where Benton was killed, that Perceval had been selected for this purpose and that he also was to investigate concerning the two missing Englishmen, Laurence and Curtis.

Sir Cecil was instructed to ask the United States government, as Great Britain had no means of communicating with General Villa, to instruct the United States consul at Juarez to inform General Villa and to request an assurance that the British consul was not to be interfered with.

Sir Edward Grey read a communication from the state department at Washington to Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, which the British ambassador cabled textually to the foreign office. It was as follows:

"The state department desired to advise the British embassy that instructions had been sent heretofore to the American consul at Juarez to make a most searching inquiry into the circumstances attending the death of William S. Benton. The consul has been instructed to make every effort to secure the exhumation and examination of the body of the deceased, to take the statements of any and all of the witnesses whom he can find to employ in his investigations, and medical and legal assistance as far as may be desirable, and to do everything in his power to elicit the facts."

The comprehensiveness of the American government's instructions called forth hearty cheers in the house of commons.

Sir Edward added that no reply had been received to his communication concerning Consul Perceval.

Bryan to Demand Benton's Body.

Washington, Feb. 25.—Following a conference with Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador, Secretary of State Bryan made a formal demand upon General Villa, Mexican rebel commander in the field, for the body of William S. Benton, the Englishman, who was executed at Villa's command.

Benton Was a Murderer, Says Villa.

Juarez, Feb. 25.—A telegram in which General Francisco Villa at Chihuahua charged William S. Benton, the British subject whom he had executed at Juarez, with being a cattle thief and having committed four murders, was received at military headquarters in Juarez.

FEDERALS HANG AMERICAN

Kidnapped and Carried Across Line and Then Put to Death.

Laredo Tex., Feb. 25.—Clemento Vergara, an American citizen, captured and carried into Mexico recently by Mexican Federals, was hanged the morning after his capture, according to advices brought here from Hidalgo, Mex.

Vergara had been ordered released by the Federal commander at Piedras Negras as the result of representations in his behalf by the American authorities.

Vergara, it was reported, complained that Mexican Federals were stealing his horses from an island in the Rio Grande, near Palafex, was lured to the island by promises of pay for the horses, knocked on the head and carried unconscious into Mexico.

Urges U. S. Air Fleet.

Washington, Feb. 25.—A $15,000,000 aeroplane fleet was proposed in a bill by Representative L'Engle, of Florida. He painted a word picture of cities being destroyed by bombs from invading air craft, and compared the foreign air fleets with that of the United States, which, he said, was composed of "twelve obsolete man-killing aeroplanes."

Roll of $800 Burns.

Seranton, Pa., Feb. 25.—Lack of confidence in the safety of banks resulted in Anthony Smith's roll of $800 going up in smoke when fire destroyed his home, on Brook street. Smith kept his money in the pillow on his bed, and when the fire was discovered he tried to get to his room, but he was too late.

DYNAMITE CASES APPEALED

J. S. Supreme Court Asked to Review Conviction of Labor Men.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The supreme court of the United States was asked to review the cases of Frank M. Ryan and twenty-three other members of the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers' union, who were found guilty at Indianapolis of engaging in a dynamite conspiracy.

Counsel for the labor men presented a petition to the court for a review, which, if granted, will prevent them from going to jail for possibly two years. The government opposed the petition.

The conviction of Ryan and the others recently was sustained by the federal court of appeals at Chicago. They were convicted of transporting dynamite in violation of the interstate commerce laws.

The labor men alleged that they were convicted largely on uncorroborated evidence of Orrie McManis and James E. McNamara, principals in the Los Angeles Times conspiracy and other dynamite outrages.

ADULTERATED FOOD LEGAL IF HARMLESS

Ingredients Must be Injurious to be Condemned.

Washington, Feb. 25.—Decisions in many important cases were announced by the supreme court.

The so-called bleached flour case, considered as having an important bearing on pure food legislation, was sent back to the federal court for the western district of Missouri for retrial, with instructions that the law was that foods not containing enough questionable substances to injure the health were not condemned.

The decision indirectly reaches out to thousands of articles of food. In effect, the court held that the government cannot condemn food unless it can show that enough poisonous ingredients have been added to cause injury to health.

The government has sought to establish that the law was violated if the presence of any amount of poisonous substance was found in food. It was contended that any other interpretation would make unenforceable that section of the law prohibiting the adding of any poisonous or other deleterious ingredient to articles which might render food injurious to health.

SPEAKS UP FOR RADIUM CURE

Falls Because Used in Insufficient Quantities, Says Dr. Anderson.

Washington, Feb. 25.—Radium has fallen into disrepute as a cure for cancer because so far it has been used in insufficient quantities and on cases which were hopeless. Dr. John F. Anderson, of the United States public health service, told a senate committee. He advocated the Walsh bill.

Dr. Anderson read a letter from Dr. Howard A. Kelly, now in Paris, which said:

"Do not be afraid radium will play out. It is doing marvellous things, especially with some cases of years' standing."

Dr. Kelly declared he had found the verdict in London the same as in Paris.

MURPHY GOT $503,500

Taft Paid That Sum For 53 Shares of Stock In Chicago Cubs

New York, Feb. 25.—Charles Webb Murphy got a check for $503,500 for his fifty-three shares of stock in the Chicago "Cubs," according to inside information that came from one of the magnates who was at the Cincinnati ceremonies.

Murphy at first held out for $10,000 a share, but finally agreed to the lower figure. Immediately after Taft had concluded the deal he is said to have offered to sell the fifty-three shares to Harry Ackerman, of Pittsburgh, who purchased ten shares of the Cub stock from Frank Chance, but Ackerman refused to buy.

"Pillars" in Mines Good Law.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The Pennsylvania "mine safety" law, requiring coal companies to leave pillars of coal to prevent cave-ins, was declared valid by the supreme court in a test case brought by the Plymouth Coal company against David T. Davis, a state mine inspector.

FRANZ SCHUBERT

The World's Greatest Song Writer

Franz Schubert, composer of heart-felt masterpieces, was born at Lienthal, near Vienna, Austria, January 31, 1797. The son of a country schoolmaster, little Franz was an apt pupil. At the age of seven he attended the Imperial School of Music and sang in the choir of the Imperial Chapel. Three years later his voice failed, but his proficiency with the violin secured him employment. When only seventeen years old he returned home to help his father, during which time he composed a famous mass, and more than a hundred heart melodies, including the renowned "Serenade." Disappointed ambition and failing health inspired that divine sadness which has made his "Adieu" a classic, and characterizes so many of his compositions. At the age of thirty-one he passed away, after composing a "Swan Song" amid the closing hours of his pathetic career.

This beautiful swan song, "Adieu! 'Tis Love's Last Greeting," is to be found on page 175 of "Heart Songs"—the song book that it took four years to make, and being the choice of 20,000 music lovers all over the world. The distribution of this book by this paper to its readers is one of the most wonderful enterprises ever undertaken by a paper. Look for the coupon elsewhere in to-day's issue, and learn how to own a whole musical library for practically nothing.

The attorney for the gas company was making a popular address. "Think of the good the gas company has done!" he cried. It is not unlawful to take another name than your own, but unless you comply with the requirements in the statutes the name you have taken will be only an alias. There is a legal method of changing your name, and in regard to the best way to go about this one would better consult a lawyer or the county judge or some attaché of his court.

BEAUTIFUL

CALIFORNIA'S NEW ACT FAVORING TREE PLANTING.

New Law Leaves Execution of Work to Municipalities.

The new tree planting act now in force in California cities leaves the execution of the work to the municipalities, rather than to contractors, and brings each city into direct relation with the property owners in the matter of tree planting, says the American City.

Before ordering any work to be done the city council must adopt a resolution of intention describing the proposed work and referring it to the city board, commission or officer in charge of tree planting, or, in the absence of such, to the city engineer. This board or officer then makes a report on the proposed improvement, with plans and specifications for the work, including a statement of the kinds of trees and shrubs, their approximate ages and sizes, together with an estimate of cost, a diagram and a statement of the proposed assessment.

Proceedings may be stopped for six months by property owners representing a majority of the frontage on the proposed work. After hearing the protests the city council may confirm, correct or reject the proposed assessment. If the work is ordered done the city clerk gives the diagram and assessment to the tax collector, who records them in his office and fixes a time limit for the payment of assessments. After due notice, property representing delinquent assessments is sold. Redemption from sale may be made within a year from date of sale by payment to the tax collector of the amount for which the property was sold, with an additional penalty of 25 per cent. The redemption money is paid by the tax collector to the purchaser of the property upon his delivery of a receipt and the original certificate of sale. In case of no redemption, a deed to the property is executed by the tax collector after the expiration of the year. Action to contest the validity of an assessment must be begun within thirty days after the levy, and appeal from the judgment in such action must be perfected within thirty days after entry.

The city treasurer takes charge of the funds collected, which may be temporarily aided by a loan from the general city fund in order to expedite matters. The work is done under the supervision and control of the board or officer that made the initial report on the proposed improvement. The special assessment provides funds for planting the trees or shrubs, for protecting them by guards or gates, and caring for them not longer than five years. After the expiration of the fixed period their care must be paid for out of the general funds.

RUNNING A SUBURBAN VILLAGE

The Village of River Forest, Ill., has a "Man on the Job."

The village of River Forest, one of Chicago's fine suburbs, is organized under the cities, villages and towns act of Illinois. The legislative and executive functions of the village are vested in a president and six trustees elected at large, who serve the village without pay. Having large private interests, the members of the board of trustees found that they were unable to give to its affairs the personal attention required. They therefore determined to employ a city manager or general superintendent who would assume most of the administrative duties and assist them in the legislative. Further, as business men, they realized that with an actual working head in the village constantly on the ground during business hours greater efficiency of the working organization would be secured.

When last May publicity was given to the determination of the president and board to make this appointment over seventy applications were received from all parts of the country from men of varied experience.

No change of charter or special legislation was necessary to create this position. The Illinois statutes provide that, in their discretion, the president and board of trustees "may from time to time by ordinance passed by vote of two-thirds of all of the trustees elected provide for the appointment by the president, with the approval of the board, of such officers as may be said board be deemed necessary or expedient for the proper administration of the affairs of the village."

On June 9 an ordinance was passed creating the position of general superintendent and on the same evening the appointment was announced by the president. Under this ordinance the general superintendent is required to devote all of his time to the service of the village, with general authority over all other village officers and supervision of their work.

Principles of business efficiency are being applied, and the results attained have been very gratifying. As far as possible each problem confronting the administration is, as it arises, considered as if the village were a commercial instead of a municipal corporation. The sole purpose in view is the enforcing of ordinances and regulations impartially, the conducting of village affairs with the maximum efficiency and economy, and the promoting of all of the functions of the village in such a manner as to make River Forest one of the ideal suburbs of America.—American City.

Period of Sadness.
After twelve months in office the chairman of a West Wales parish council was about to give up his position. "And now, gentlemen," he said, with feeling, "the time has come for me to vacate the chair."

Just Like Falstaff.
When a man is disgustingly drunk it is a common thing to say "He's used." The term was made popular by Shakespeare in Henry IV, where he makes Falstaff say: "If I am not ashamed of my soldiers, I'm a souse'd gurnet." The gurnet was a cheap fish, and when souse'd or pickled was a vulgar dish. Hence, "a souse'd gurnet" was a term of contempt.

His Devotion.
"Young Mrs. Flitter tells me that her husband is going to teach her how to skate this winter," says Mrs. Gooph, in the "tone a woman employs" when she conceals a reproach in a morsel of conversation. "Isn't it nice to see a man so devoted to his wife?" "Devoted—shucks!" grumbles Gooph from behind his magazine. "He's so blamed jealous of her he won't take a chance of having any other man near her."—Judge.

Telling of Evil.
Never tell evil of a man if you do not know it for a certainty; then ask yourself: "Why should I tell it?"—Lavater.

Few Folks Have

Gray Hair Now

Druggist Says Ladies are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it takes off dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

SUITED TO ALL HOURS OF THE DAY IS THIS USEFUL LITTLE FROCK

A frock that combines a suggestion of both suit and dress is useful in any wardrobe. It is excellent for traveling, for shopping or for little informal afternoon affairs. Bedford cord, raton, duvetyn or the ever favored hard-finished serge are all suitable. A very pretty little frock displayed in one of the smart shops the other day was of rich dark blue serge in dark blue, combined with black satin. A wide soft girder of the black satin added just the necessary soft touch that completed the frock. The model illustrated in 8211, is of dark gray eponge with a frill of net at the throat and a cluster of softly colored chiffon flowers at the belt. A straight three-piece skirt with a shaped tunic and a drop-shouldered bodice, clinging surplice fashion, makes a delightfully simple costume but one that combines many of the effective touches of the season.

This design may be copied in size 23 with 5 1/2 yards of 36 inch material. Eponge averages 40 inches in width and may be purchased from $1.50 per yard up.

The small dress shown in number 8220, is a long waisted blouse dress; the skirted skirt is of serge and the blouse of cotton crepe with a tiny colored figure.

For a child of twelve, this little dress requires 3 1/2 yards of 36 inch material.

Number 8211—sizes 34 to 44.
Number 8220—sizes 8 to 14.

Each pattern 15 cents.

DURING HOME PATTERN WEEK, FEBRUARY 23 to 28, PATTERN NUMBER 8211 WILL BE SENT FREE OF CHARGE WITH THE COMPLIMENTS OF THIS PAPER TO ANY ONE SENDING A 2c STAMP WITH NAME, ADDRESS AND SIZE TO F. B. DESER, No. 3, 615 West 43 St., New York City.

Education, elsewhere in today's paper, explains terms.

Child Liable to Be Spoiled.
At Zaratanto, there has just occurred a case which is probably unique of its kind. A child has been born while its father, grandfather, great-grandfather and great-great-grandfather are all living. Its name is Urriticochea, and the family are Basque farm laborers. The great-grandfather and great-great-grandfather have acted as godfather to the child. The united family constitute nearly a whole village.

High Terms of Praise.
The late Doctor Dashiell was fond of telling the following story on himself. As he was preaching on one occasion at his old home, an old colored man who had taken care of him when he was a child was delighted with the sermon. At the close of the service he shook the doctor warmly by the hand, and said: "Larry, you's a good preacher, you's a good preacher. I tell you, you's a soundin' brass and tinkin' cymbal."—Christian Register.

Effect It Had on Her.
The handsomest American uniform is unquestionably that of the First city troop of Philadelphia. It is related of a certain Trooper Riddle, who is particularly handsome, that as he clanked down Walnut street one day in his long and lustrous boots, white doekin breeches and glittering helm, a pretty young Irish parlor maid was heard to say to the butler: "Shure, an' I'd like to pawn him now!"

Toy Animals.
"In all the ages of the world's history children have loved their toys to be in the shapes of animals. Mules appear among the toys of pottery from Cyrenaica, made at Athens; spotted cows from Egypt; a boy riding a swan, a goat from Cyprus, made before the Christian era; rams, ducks, fish, all bear witness to the love of the children of early times for animals in miniature as playthings."—Mrs. F. N. Jackson, "Toys of Other Days."

Another Thing.
"How did you propose to support my daughter, sir?" "I didn't propose to her to support her at all. I only proposed to her to marry me."—Rehoboth Sunday Herald.

Took His Chance.
"I suppose, my poor man," said the woman missionary, "that you never had a chance." "I certainly had, mum," replied the convict. "I took it, and that's why I'm here."

Age of Cattle.
The calf when born has two pairs of molars; the other two pairs appear during the first month, says Professor G. E. Morton of the Colorado experiment station. When a calf is eighteen months old it loses the middle pair of milk molars and grows a permanent pair. The next pair, one on each side, is replaced at twenty-seven months of age, the third pair at thirty-six months of age, the fourth or outside pair at forty-five months. The time of appearance of these molars varies within rather narrow limits, so that we are able to tell the age of young cattle fairly accurately. The calf also has a temporary set of molars which are later replaced with permanent ones, but they are not considered in estimating the age of the animal.

Spelling Calves' Udders.
A common bad result of sucking among calves is spelling of udders later on from garget and similar troubles, says Dr. A. S. Alexander. Milk fed calves confined to a pen often learn the vicious habit of sucking one another's udders. Where this takes place it almost invariably happens that the udder will in time secrete milk, and such milk sours, clogs and leads to garget (inflammation of the udder or mammitis or mastitis). This will be news to many a man who has not been a close observer, but we know it to be a fact.

Cholera a Fifth Disease.
If it were not for hog cholera pork raisers would be living in the lap of luxury. The time will come when there will be no more excuse for hog cholera than for the human cholera, that until a century or so ago periodically devastated Europe and America. Both are essentially fifth diseases.

Warm the Frosty Bits.
These are the days when the humane driver always warms the bridle before he harnesses his horse. A little warm water should always be poured over the bit before it is placed in the horse's mouth.

Two Sides of Matrimony

By F. A. MITCHEL

"Seems to me nowadays all de gals, instead o' wukin', are sittin' roun' waitin' fo' to git married. I don't hab no 'casion fo' to git married. I got two strong arms fo' to rub on a wash-board an' fo' to do ironin'. What I want to get married fo' is to hab a good man to git married to."

"Oh, pshaw, Aunt Chloe! You'd like to get married well enough if you had somebody to marry you. How about Nat Taylor, who was courtin' you, that Pinky Jones took from you?"

"Yo' nebbin was no' mistaken in yo' life 'bout dat. Nat he cum to me one day, an' he say, says he, 'Chloe, yo' don't know any gal dat would like to take care ob my house, do yo'?'"

"I was fryin' bacon when he said dat, an' I jest stood with a fo'k in one hand an' looked up at de ceilin', thoughtful-like."

"Why, Aunt Chloe, didn't you understand that was a proposal?"

"Propose to me! Twan't no sech thing. Nat knew well 'nuff I kin mak my own libbin', an' he wouldn't insult me by askin me to come in an' mak de bed an' cook de vittles an' set roun' an' look purty de rest ob de time. He wanted a lazy gal fo' dat."

"Well, go on with your story."

"Timely I think ob Pinky Jones as de mos' wo'thless gal I knowed, consequently de mos' likely gal fo' to get married. So I tole Nat 'bout her, an' he asked a lot ob questions. I wa'n't goin' to mak myself 'sponsible fo' her, so I jest said she war a fine lookin' gal when she war dressed up. I knowed dat would please him better'n if I said she war a good cook an' washer an' ironer, an' it did. He asked me where she war, an' I tole him, an' he went right off an' begun de cou'tin'."

"Aunt Chloe, you're very smart. You know you are. You know well enough he wanted you, but you didn't want the job yourself, and you turned him aside on purpose."

"Yah, yah!" laughed Chloe knowingly. "Reckon I didn't want to git myself. Nat war berry good man too. But what I want to git married fo', anyway? My husband 'ud pay fo' de marryin', but who gwine to pay fo' de divorce, I like to know? Do yo' s'pose I kin afford to travel way out to some o' dem west'n towns an' lib dar a yea' or mo' fo' to git separated from some wo'thless nigger dat couldn't white-wash a stone wall?"

"Well, how did Nat come out with his snit?"

"How Nat come out? Why, he come out wid a flatiron followin' him. It hit him squa' on de back ob de head. Mighty lucky dat. Ef it hit him in de back it might 'a' broke it. Ef it hit him in de side it might 'a' stopped de heart a-beatin'." De safes' place fo' Nat to git hit war in de skull. You couldn't break it wid no triffin' thing like a flatiron, an' dere hain't no brains in it to joggle."

"I thought you said Nat was a good man."

"So he is; so he is good man, but I didn't say he war a sma't man. Ef he'd been a sma't man he wouldn't 'a' married Pinky Jones."

"But didn't you recommend her?"

"Dat's jist what Nat said. He come to me wid his head ob bandaged up, an' he say, 'Chloe, what yo' recommend dat dibbly to me fo'?'"

"I didn't recommend her, I said, 'I tole yo' she war a fine lookin' gal when she war dressed up.'"

"What was the trouble between Nat and Pinky?"

"Nat tole me 'bout dat. He said he went home to supper an' dere wa'n't no supper—de butcher didn't send home de pork chops. Nat asked Pinky why she didn't go get de pork chops. Pinky said she didn't git married fo' to carry home provisions. Nat said dat ef he worked all day cuttin' people's grass an' beatin' rugs he didn't know why his wife couldn't be sho to hab de supper ready. Pinky said she couldn't cook de supper when de supper wasn't sent home in de delivery wagon."

"Den Nat asked Pinky ef when she war a Georgia nigger de delivery wagon stopped at de do' ob her residence wid de provisions. Dat made Pinky mad, an' she war reachin' fo' de flatiron. Nat saw blood in her eye, an' he started out to git his supper somewhere else, but de flatiron tuk him in de back ob de head an' putty nigh knocked him down. He turned to Pinky an' tole her ef she did dat ag'in he'd hab her arrested."

"Dat war de end ob de misunderstanding. Nat he bo'd'in' at a low down bo'd'in' house, an' Pinky she lib'in' in Nat's rooms mighty comfortab'."

"Twas all your fault, Aunt Chloe. Nat came to you to ask you to be his wife, and you turned him over to the most worthless woman you knew."

"Wo'thless! Yah, yah! Don't yo' be libe it. Pinky's considerin' wedder she gwine to study fo' to be a teacher or to write fo' de magazines. She hain't got no education, an' she can't de teachin', so she's gwine into de literary business. I reckon."

"If you had married him he would have been all right."

"Reckon he would 'a' been all right, but whar 'ud I 'a' been? I been gibbin' you de man's side ob de question. Ef I'd 'a' married Nat I'd 'a' been gibbin' you de woman's side. De woman, when she gits a wo'thless husband or don't agree with him, gits a lot ob trouble with de alamaun an' all dat. I rather fry bacon an' do washin'."

...The Situation...

We have long since learned that is not what this community wants or what we want to sell. We therefore applied ourselves to the study of quality or standard grades of good goods only. Goods that would pay a fair profit to us and give satisfaction to the consumer, and on this we have gained success.

If you have been trading with stores who make price the first consideration, and are dissatisfied, we ask you to try us and our merchandise and methods and see if it is not greatly to your satisfaction and profit.

Every season we make quality and service more a consideration and our gain in business shows us that it is appreciated. We invite you to this season's showing of with confidence; that as everything is not only the best of its kind, it is also priced as low as such merchandise can be sold. We have never shown so varied a stock in all lines as we are prepared to show this season.

HUDSON Sixes

Six-40 $1750 F. O. B. Detroit Six-54 $2250

Drive This Light
$1750 Six

Try It Once and Realize a New Motoring Comfort

Six cylinders are no longer prohibitive. In price the HUDSON Six-40 sells for less than any comparable Four. Its operative cost—for gasoline, oil, tires, etc.—is a great deal less than for any similar sized Four.

Sixes long ago dominated the field above $2200. Now they have complete supremacy down to $1500.

Four-cylinder cars that when new two years ago brought up to $3000, do not bring any better price today as second-hand values than do the $2900 Fours of that year.

In fact, it is next to impossible to find a buyer for a second-hand, high-priced Four.

One leading maker of a high class car, when Sixes became its sole product, so depreciated the value of its Fours—as fine as ever have been built—that today they are almost unsalable.

So you see what happened to Fours that sold above $2200. What must you think of the future of the Four that today sells above $1500.

"There's a Reason"

No Four can equal a Six in smoothness of operation.

There is no such thing as "nerves" for the passenger in a Six. Now that the HUDSON Six-40 meets every objection ever offered to the Six, there is no wise reason why any other type of car should be purchased.

It is light, economical, graceful, powerful and all that anyone could ask for.

It is, in addition, the handsomest design of the year. The design and equipment are almost identical with the new HUDSON Six-54.

It has a streamline body of the most distinguished type. Extra tires are carried ahead of the front door. Left-hand drive, with entrance to driver's seat from either side. One man top, electric starter and lights, best of finish, hand-buffed leather. Extra tonneau seats fold into back of front seat out of the way when not in use. Comes in six-passenger Phaeton and Roadster at $1750 and Cabriolet at $1950, f. o. b. Detroit. No last year's car at any price offered so many attractions.

Not Enough For All

The evidence is that the demand for this car will far exceed the output. The sale so far has broken all HUDSON records.

So we urge you who may want it to come now and inspect it. Come anyway, if only to see the new features of this year's first class cars.
